

JUNE 2010

BAC E-NEWS

Before you head out of town for Memorial Day weekend, mark your calendars with these upcoming events and activities in June! BAC's Black Brooklyn Renaissance summer series kicks-off with a Drum Call on June 5 that you won't want to miss. The jam-packed afternoon includes drumming performances and demos, drum-making workshops, a symposium on African drumming in BK, and more. Also that weekend, artist Daryl-Ann Saunders presents the exhibition "URBANITY: Interpretations of the Urban Landscape", which she curated as part of her involvement with the Space for Art program, promoted with help from BAC, during Bushwick Open Studios. Also not-to-miss is the BAC fiscally sponsored project Spirit Ship, a magical experience that jumps off the screen aboard the Waterfront Museum and Showboat Barge on the Red Hook waterfront on June 12; this year's Make Music New York Festival on June 21; and the free BAC seminar on applying for foundation grants aimed at film and media artists on June 22. Plus, get free and discounted access to exciting arts events in BK this summer and all year by joining BK Art Lovers now!

Space For Art Program

June 5 & 6, 2010, 12noon-6pm, Diana H. Jones Senior Citizen Center, 9 Noll St., Brooklyn

Space for Art is a collaborative project between Department for the Aging (DFTA), Department of Cultural Affairs (DCA), representative agencies from each of the five boroughs, and the Mayor's office. The program gives working artists studio space in senior centers throughout New York City in exchange for artist-led workshops and exhibitions that enrich the lives of community members.

BAC paired photographer Daryl-Ann Saunders with Diana H. Jones Senior Center through Space for Art. Saunders curated the exhibition URBANITY: Interpretations of the Urban Landscape (Collage, Mixed Media, Painting, Photography, Real Time 3d Graphics & Video Installation), on-view during Bushwick Open Studios.
